This is a reduction of 25 cents per ton in the present prices, and is tue result of the meeting of the association held on Friday last,

The Pennsylvania Railroad company has more tracks laid in Philadelphia than it would take to build a single line from here to Pittsburg. It is not generally known what the mileage of the Pennsylvania railroad is in that city, many people thinking it is not much more than 100 miles. Chief En-gineer Brown, who loves statistics, bas just prepared a table which shows the mileage. It is as follows: Pennsylvania railroad proper, 185 miles; United Railroads of New Jersey, 148 miles; Poiladelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore, 41 miles; Janction railroad, 9 miles; making a grand total of 583 miles. This is more than enough to construct a single track road form there to Pittsburg. there being thirty nine miles of track which can be devoted to passenger sidings, etc. If all the tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad were strung out in one straight line there would be enough to lay four tracks from Portland, Me., to San Francisco, and there would be eighty-three miles left over, which could be used for sidings. Or the total mileage of the Pennsylvania railroad would be enough to put a circle around the globe at forty-fifth parallel of lati-
